ECLIPSES FOR THE YEAR 1873.

There will be four Eclipses; two of the Sun and two of the Moon.

The first is a total eclipse of the Moon, on the 12th of May, at 6 o'clock 10 min. in the morning. Invisible here, except at 4 o'clock 20 min. in the morning a small part may be visible before the Moon sets.

The second is a partial eclipse of the Sun, on the 26th of May, at 3 o'clock 56 min. in the morning. Invisible here. Visible in Europe, Russia, and at the North Pole.

The third is a total eclipse of the Moon, on the 4th of November, at 10 o'clock 40 min. in the forenoon; therefore invisible here.

The fourth is a partial eclipse of the Sun, on the 19th of November, at 10 o'clock 18 min. in the evening. Invisible here. Visible towards the South Pole.

MOON'S PHASES.

First Quarter, the 4th, at 4 o'clock 53 m. in the morning.
Full Moon, the 12th, at 6 o'clock 21 m. in the morning.
Last Quarter, the 20th, at 6 o'clock 25 m. in the morning.
New Moon, the 28th, at 10 o'clock 10 m. in the evening.

Truth needs no color, beauty no show.

Books introduce us into the best society; they bring us into the presence of the greatest minds that ever lived.

The firmest friendships have been formed in mutual adversity, as iron is most strongly united by the fiercest flame.

The best dowry to advance the marriage of a young lady is, when she has in her countenance mildness, in her speech wisdom, in her behavior modesty, in her life virtue.

Some men make a great flourish about always doing what they believe to be right, but always manage to believe that is right which is for their own interest.

The true motives of our action like the real pipes of an organ, are usually concealed; but the gilded and hollow pretext is purposely placed in the front for show

In Quarrels, leave open the door of reconciliation

Do the 'roots of words' produce flowers of speech

Unspoken dialect—the language of the eyes

Never expose your disappointment to the world

Insanity is now termed "dyspepsia of the brain"

Anger, like rain, breaks itself upon what it falls

Faithfulness and sincerity are the highest things

Discretion in speech is greater and better than eloquence

Men deride the self-conceit of power, but cringe to its injustice

The richer a man makes his food the poorer he makes his appetite

For life in general there is but one degree; youth is a blunder; manhood a struggle; old age regret

Wisdom often comes to us, where no life to be of much service to us. There is no use of mustard after meat Man is the only creature endowed with the power of laughter; is he not also the only one that deserves to be laughed at?

HOW TO CALCULATE INTEREST:

SIX PER CENT.—Multiply the number of dollars by the number of days of interest desired, separate the right hand figure and divide by six.

EIGHT PER CENT.—Multiply the given amount by the number of days and divide by forty-five.

TEN PER CENT.—Multiply the same as above, and divide by thirty-six.

With wishing comes grieving.

Leave nothing that is necessary in any matter undone—we rate ability in men by what they finish, not by what they attempt.

Intemperance is the parent of most other vices. It quenches the salutary power of reason, and makes us the sport of raging passion.

As the soil, however rich it may be, cannot be productive without culture, so the mind, without cultivation, can never produce good fruit.

Success rides on every hour; grapple it, and you may win, but without a grapple, it will never go with you. Work is the weapon of honor, and he who lacks the weapon will never triumph.

One-half pint of whisky, one-half pint of gunpowder, one-half pint of molasses, and one-half pint soft soap will cure the worst case of bots.

It cannot be too strongly impressed upon the mind that application is the price to be paid for mental acquisitions, and that it is as absurd to expect them without it as it is to hope for a harvest where we may not have sown the seed.

Men of the noblest disposition think themselves happiest when others share their happiness with them.

BOTS IN HORSES — For bots, drench the animal with half a pint of thin tar, which kills them instantly.

Like a morning dream, life becomes more and more bright the longer we live, and the reason of everything becomes more clear. What has puzzled us before seems less mysterious, and the crooked paths look straighter as we approach the end.

There is in some men a dispassionate neutrality of mind, which, though it generally passes for good temper, can neither gratify nor warm us; it must indeed be granted that these men can only negatively offend; but then it should also be remembered that they cannot positively please.

"Let the world slide, let the world go ;

A fig for care, and a fig for woe !

It is safer to affront some people than to oblige them ; for the better a man deserves, the worse they will speak of him ; as if the profession of open hatred to their benefactors were an argument that they lie under no obligation.

The truly great and good in affliction bear a countenance more princely than they are wont ; for it is the temper of the highest hearts, like the palm-tress, to strive most upward when they are burdened.

He that cannot forgive others breaks the bridge over which he must pass himself.

MARTIN URNER, SR.,

The subject of this memoir was born in Alsace a province of France, about the year 1695, and bred in the Reformed, or Presbyterian faith.

He came to America in 1715, and settled among the Hermits of the Ridge, now called Roxborough, near the confluence of the Wissahicon and Schuylkill rivers. He was for a while an associate with the mystic sect, called the "Woman in the Wilderness," founded by the hermit John Kelpius, in 1694. But after the Brethren came over in 1719, he soon made his acquaintance with them, and not long until he was so far convinced of the duty and necessity of Christian baptism that he applied to them, as a candidate, with five others, which were the first-fruits of the Brethren in America. They were baptized by Peter Becker in the Wissahicon, on the 25th of December, 1723.

In 1724, he, with several others, moved to Coventry, in Chester county, Pa., and organized a little church there, under the oversight of Peter Becker, by whom he was commissioned to serve the church as an exhorter, until in 1729, he was formally ordained by the Imposition of Hands, to the office of Bishop, in which capacity he served the church until 1755, when he was removed by death, in the sixty-first year of his age.—His remains are buried in the Brethren's grave yard at Coventry.

He was married early in life, to a Catharine Reist, by whom he had three children, Mary, Martha, and Jacob. These married into the Wolf, Eddies, and Light, or Lichty families, who have left him a numerous progeny scattered through the different states of the Union, many of whom are still in connection with the Church of the Brethren.

For further information concerning his Fidelity, &c., the reader is referred to the hints given in the COMPANION of April 9th 1872, page 228.

MARTIN URNER, JR.,

Was also a very popular preacher among the ancient worthies. He was a brother's son, or nephew to the preceding Martin Urner Sr., and was born in New Hanover Township, then in Philadelphia county, but now Montgomery, Pa., in the year 1725. He became a member of the church at Coventry while very young in life, and after serving her different offices with exemplary piety, and disinterested zeal, he was finally promoted to the office of Bishop, being ordained in 1756. From that time on the sole care of the church devolved upon him until released by death. He died in May 1799 in the 74th year of his age.

He was married to sister Barbara Sweitzer, of Coventry, by whom he had four children, Mary, Joseph, Martin, and Elizabeth, who have also raised him a numerous progeny, many of whom are still in fellowship with the Brethren.

This brother Urner appears to have been somewhat a revivalist, as the church flourished greatly under his ministerial labors. He was also the bosom friend of Alexander Mack as their correspondence manifests the most intimate terms of love and friendship between them during life, the record of his death also is in language that bespeaks great tenderness of affection for him.

MICHAEL FRANTZ.

Michael Frantz was another very eminent preacher among the ancient Brethren, and the first settled minister of the old Conestoga church. He was born in the Canton of St. Jacob, near Basel, in Switzerland, in the year—— and came to America in Sept. 1727, and settled in the vicinity of the Cocalico, in Lancaster county, Pa., where he soon became convinced of the truth of the doctrines as they are held forth by the Brethren, consequently he was received into the followers of the "Little Flock," which had separated themselves from the Parent Church of Ephrata, on account of the innovations that were being introduced by the mystic Conrad Beissel. See COMPANION, Vol. 8 page 228.

He was baptized by Peter Becker on the 29th of September, 1734, the same day that that little flock was organized into a separate church, and while it was otherwise unsupplied, this brother Frantz was commissioned to serve them in the capacity of an exhorter, in which he approved himself so well that he was soon ordained by the Imposition of Hands to be their Elder, and the next year (1735) he took upon him the entire care of the church, which he served with exemplary zeal and fidelity until the day of his death, which occurred in December, 1747, one record says 1748. His remains are buried in the old grave yard near the Cocalico. The following is an attempted translation of a little note or epitaph, by an unknown hand: "In this year 1748, our Elder and Overseer, Michael Frantz departed this life, and has exchanged time with eternity, after being well tried by affliction."

"Farewell on the chariot of God,
We do not envy thee thy rest,
By angels thou'rt carried the road,
Toward the abode of the blest
To join in that heavenly abode.
The host of the angelic choir,
To sing and rejoice in thy God,
To praise him forever and higher."

Brother Frantz appears to have been an approved workman of the Lord, inasmuch that the little church which consisted of but 20 members when he commenced his labors in it, increased to about 200, during the thirteen years of his ministry. "Surely this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes." He was not only approved of as a good and efficient preacher, but was also a very ready writer, and a pretty good poet. He composed so many excellent pieces that brother Christopher Saur of Germantown, was induced to publish a collection of his poetic and other productions, which he accomplished in 1770, under the title of **Einfältige Lehr-Betrachtungen, und Kurzgefaßtes Glaubens-Bekänntniß des Gott-seligen Lehrers Michael Franzen, Weyland gewesenen Vorstehers der Täufer-gemeine in Conastogoe, nun zum Gemeinen Besten dem Druck übergeben, Etc.*, From which occasional extracts have appeared in the German Visitor during the year 1855.

Church and Family Chronicles.

I hardly know how to get up an interesting sketch of the first beginnings of the church in Buffalo Valley, Union Co., Pa., without getting too much personal matter intermingled with it. To leave out all personal and family names and connections, would divest the narrative of nearly all local or general interest, and render the account, in a great measure, dull and foreign to those otherwise most likely to be entertained in its perusal. With this apology we begin these chronicles.

Our great-grandfather, Wendell Becker, now Baker, immigrated from Palz, Germany, in the year 1749, to America, and anterior to the revolutionary war, removed to Buffalo Valley, from the church at Amwell, in New Jersey. His removal from the latter place was probably hastened on account of the political troubles immediately preceding the breaking out of the war of '76, which troubles, included the most rigorous persecutions of all non-combatant believers. He was, therefore, the first, and for a time, the only member of the Brethren in Buffalo Valley. The next member was the wife of Jacob Braefogel, who, it is said, was a native of Prussia. She died during the lifetime of Wendell Baker. Wendell was not supposed to have been a relative of the eminent preacher, Peter Becker. Grandfather John Baker, eldest son of Wendell, at the age of twenty years, went to Middle Creek Valley, now Snyder county, to learn the trade of a mill-wright, and from there, with his master, to York county, where he formed the acquaintance of a widow lady of the name of Horbacher, whose maiden name had been Mary Lawshe, a member of the church, to whom he was united in marriage during the year 1793. The fruit of this marriage, on the Conawago, near East Berlin, was the birth of a daughter, on the 4th of April, 1794, whose name was called Anna. Grandmother Baker died in October, 1804, and during the year 1807 grandfather Baker, with his second wife—Mary Hollinger—also a member, removed again to Buffalo Valley. This addition made the number of the members in the valley count four.

Some time after this, John Eyer was baptized, probably by old Elder David Shellenberger or David Smith, which brethren began about this time to visit the brethren in Buffalo Valley. Their first meeting being held in October, 1816, at the house of grandfather, John Baker, about two years before the death of Wendell Baker.

After the events noted above, those Lost Creek Valley brethren continued to make occasional church and preaching visits to this valley. Probably during the year 1817, Esther Nickol and Mary Hupper were baptized in Buffalo Creek, on grandfather Baker's farm, the title of which is now vested in Samuel Baker, a grand-on of old Wendell, a nephew of John Baker. It is situated near Buffalo Cross Roads.

The next person baptized was Polly Peters, probably in August, 1821, by a minister by the name of Stover, who was in company with brother Christian Long, Sr. She afterward became the wife of brother Abraham Slifer, and step-mother of Samuel and Eli Slifer, of Harrisburg, Pa. Soon after this Michael Peters was baptized; after this John Keister and wife were added by baptism.

Great-grandfather Valentine Bieber, now Beaver, immigrated from Zweibrücken, Germany, to Philadelphia, thence to Virginia, and South Carolina. His son Adam, our grandfather, was apprenticed to a man in Bucks county, Pa., who brought him along to the Susquehanna valley. He settled on Muncy Creek, and died in the town of Muncy, Pa., at the age of 88 years. His son, our earthly father, John Beaver, who was born July 3d, 1789, was united in marriage with the aforementioned Anna, daughter of John Baker aforesaid, on the 22d of January, 1814. Magdalena Metz, and Anna Beaver, our mother, were baptized in October, 1822, on the same day.

This is the mother of all the Beaver's in the church in Buffalo Valley, or elsewhere, so far as I know. She still lives. Pretty soon afterward, in the year 1823, came John Royer with his family, himself and wife members; with whom came also Isaac Myers, now Elder of this congregation, and his sister Susannah, now deceased, wife of Jacob Royer, Sr., but not then members. David Shellenberger, now Elder, and living near Dayton, Ohio, came into the valley about two years later. Brother David was the first preacher ever chosen in this church. Brother Abraham Slifer and sister, his wife, came on in the spring of 1825. Joel Royer and wife Susannah, both members, moved here with their large family in the spring of 1828.

From this time forward, until within the last few years, the church gradually increased in membership, largely under the pastoral labors here of the late Elder John Sprogel of Illinois, until it reached about two hundred. Of late, however, this number has been somewhat reduced by western emigration, and the ministry becoming too old, and therefore too much isolated to effectually reach the younger, impressible, convertible classes, and the want or decline of social visiting from house to house, for the encouragement of timid seekers of religion, is also believed to be a cause contributing to this declension.

Amongst the earliest ministers of the church, who was chosen, labored and died here, was John Royer. And of those, not already mentioned, who labored in this church longer or shorter periods of time, are brother Rubsam, of Ohio, John Lawver, deceased, of Illinois, and Samuel Longenecker, of Iowa, John Bogenreif, deceased, and Robert Badger, of Iowa; these last two brethren were chosen to the ministry in this church. Of those chosen to the ministry elsewhere, after becoming members here, and moving out of the church, we recall the names of Allen Boyer, of Illinois, John G. Royer, and John Reif, of Ind., and perhaps David Barkloo, of Iowa.

A Brief Biography

OF THE BROTHERHOOD, IN WESTERN PENN'A
WESTERN MARYLAND, AND WESTERN VIRGINIA.

In the Spring of 1783, brother John Keagey, then a young brother, a deacon, emigrated from York county, Pa., to what was then termed the Back-woods, Bedford, now Somerset county, Pa., into the valley between the Allegheny, and Negro Mountains, about thirteen miles south of the village of Berlin, and about three miles north of the now village of Salisbury, on the farm, afterwards owned and occupied by John Buechly- Sen; for quite a number of years, and more recently by his son, David Buechley, now living in Marshall county, Iowa. Brother Keagey opened said farm. There were at his arrival, into this then wild country, a few brethren scattered over this section of country, among whom was brother John Burger. He lived on the farm afterwards occupied by brother Abraham Buechley, and more recently by E. K. Buechley, (son of Abraham Buechley), and at present occupied by brother Daniel Buechly. In the fall of this, year, 1783, some of the Eastern Brethren paid a visit to Bro. Keagey, and sought out the other members scattered over the valley, and held a love-feast, at the house of brother John Burger, organized the little band of brethren and sisters into a church, had brother Keagey promoted to the ministry, and another brother to a Deacon. This was the first love-feast ever held by the Brethren west of the Allegheny. The little church from henceforth commenced to flourish and spread out to a considerable extent. Peter Livengood, John Olinger, Michael Buechley, and Christian Hochstetler, all of them Amish men, had moved into this neighborhood prior to brother Keagey. They all four soon united with the Brethren. Livengood, Buechley, and Hochstetler were put to the ministry. The church now become quite formidable, spread out southward into Maryland and Virginia, and north into Con-emaugh, so that one branch south was struck off as a separate branch, called the Sandy Creek branch, and finally the north end, Conemaugh was struck off. Brother Keagey was ordained an Elder about the year 1790, and in the fall of 1806 he emigrated to the Miami Valley, near Dayton Ohio. Brother Michael Meyer, an interesting young brother, who had in his early years emigrated from Lebanon county, Pa. was now ordained. (1806) the second Elder in this valley. He was the overseer of this large body of Brethren for 30 years. He died in the spring of 1836. The church spread out and increased to a very large extent under brother Meyer's oversight. In the fall of 1836, Peter Cover and John Forney were ordained. In 1847, brother John Forney died. Jacob Meyer, son of Elder M. Meyer, dec'd was then ordained, and in 1849, this great body of brethren were divided into six different branches, namely, the Berlin, Quemahoning, Middle Creek, Elklick, Bear Creek Cove, Shade Mills, the latter two in Alleghany county, Md. Brethren Peter Cover and Jacob Meyer were the Elders of the Berlin branch, and had the oversight of the Quemahoning and Middle Creek branches. Brethren John Berkley and Jacob Lichty were the Elders of the Elklick branch, and had the oversight of the two Maryland branches. In a few years after the separation as above stated, brother Jacob S. Hauger was ordained an Elder of the Middle Creek branch, and brother Christian Smucker of the Quemahoning.

From this little band of brethren and sisters, organized into a church in the fall of 1783, in the house of brother John Burger, came all the churches of the brethren in western Penn'a, western Maryland, (west of Cumberland) and those in Virginia, bordering on the Penn'a. line, Preston county, and vicinity. The farm then occupied by brother John Burger, and afterwards by the Buechlys, is now that part of Dale City lying south of Flaugherty Creek, and the brother John Olinger, mentioned above, owned all that part of Dale City, and Meyers' Mills, lying north of Flaugherty Creek suburbs, rail road depot, &c. all formerly belonged to said John Olinger. The Myers Mills part was sold off many years ago.

The great Valley between the Alleghany and Negro Mountains obtained the name of Brother's Valley, from the fact that the Brethren first settled it. One township still bears that name.

—"Don't Be too Certain."

BY D. B. MENTZER.

Ay, now, boys don't be to certain. It is a very easy thing to make a mistake. Remember nothing is easier. And if you permit yourselves to make the same mistake a great many times, everybody will lose confidence in what you say, or in what you do. They will feel no security in trusting your word or your work. If we are liable to mistakes, why surely we need not always remain the same, and so have the misfortune to go through this world blundering, staggering, mistaking, misdoing, and at last look back on a miserable misspent life. No, no. We are susceptible of learning, improving, correcting our manner of life. We should improve every day. That's our business in this world. We should, necessarily, become better and better, and even if we cannot go out among our fallen brothers and sisters of humanity, and engage heartily and actively in a reformatory work among them to lead them to virtue and righteousness, why! we can "let our light shine" at home and when we go abroad, as good children, nice young men and ladies, growing up into a true manhood and virtuous womanhood. Would not such a life be beautiful and honorable? Well, then, let us all try to walk in such a life.

But sometimes we do what is wrong, and still we think it is right. Now, don't be too certain. Never make a positive statement, unless you know it is just as you say. If you have any doubts remove them by examination, before you speak confidently. Don't be too certain. Here is a home example to illustrate.

"John, where is the ax?"

"It is in the corn-house"

"No, it is not there, I have just been looking there."

"Well, I know it is there; I saw it there not half an hour ago."

"If you saw it there, it must be there of course.

But suppose, John, you go and fetch it."

John goes to the corn-house, and presently returns with a large hammer in his hand, and says:

"Oh, it was the hammer I saw. The handle was sticking out from a half-bushel measure. I thought it was the ax."

"Well, don't be certain, another time."

"Yes, father, but I did really think I saw it, or I should not have said so."

"But you said positively that you did see it, and not that you thought you saw it."

Now, my gentle readers, I venture that many of you have made just such mistakes. But this is only one of a thousand similar mistakes. Don't be too certain. There is a great difference between the two answers—between asserting a thing positively, and in simply thinking it so. Do not permit yourselves to make positive statements, even about small matters, unless you are quite sure, for if you do, it will become one of your "bundle of habits," and the habit will grow upon you, and by and by you will make loose replies to questions of great importance. Then your "good name" will be at stake. Be careful of this, because "a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." Great riches! Just think! How careful we ought to be that we watch our words, and in what we have to say or answer, always tell it right—do everything right.

Don't be too certain. So we say to some Christians, who profess the religion of Jesus, but take their own way to follow Him, as they think. Christians are so divided in faith and practice, that anyone and everybody ought to be careful of what they do in this great matter. There is a right way and surely all my intelligent, thinking readers, will admit. Here is one who says, "I believe so and so;" but does not obey the commands of our Savior, and insists that he is right. Friend, don't be too certain—the handle is deceiving you. There are thousands more in the same error, holding similar views. Friends, don't be too certain. But I am certain that Jesus said, "Follow me," and ("search the Scriptures") so we must repent, quit sinning, be "buried with Christ in baptism," "walk in newness of life," by faith, prayer, hope, love, in meekness and humility, rejoicing in the Lord. May the year 1873 find you coming to Christ, or living nearer to Him, and walking in all his commandments, that you may be saved.

A Curiosity.

While at his house, on the second day of October, 1872, brother Henry Hershberger, showed us a wooden spoon that was presented to him by his grandmother, a short time before her death, which occurred near thirty-six years ago. She was about ninety years of age when she died. In her early life she belonged to the Seventh Day Baptists, at Ephrata, Lancaster county, Pa. At that time, she told him, it was customary for sisters to have their own spoons, all of which were wooden, which they would take with them, when attending Lovefeasts from home. It is very neat and light, and in as good order as when first made. For convenience we would prefer it to the old fashioned pewter spoons. The old sister's maiden name was Rebecca Miller, and she was a German.

Preaching Instead of Dancing.

The following story was related to me on a dismal, rainy day, while a kind brother was conveying me from one place of preaching to another. We were passing over hills and stones, through woods and mud, and I was fast getting melancholy, thinking of my cozy home and its dear occupants. The brother understood the situation, and to while away time, and to interest me, he asked:

"Did your grandfather, George Price ever tell you about his preaching at a tavern, on the Allegheny Mountain, one evening?"

Replying in the negative, he continued:

"Well, in the year 1821, the yearly meeting was in the Glades, and on the way home, your grandfather, and a number of other brethren, stopped at a tavern on the mountain, intending to lodge there. They were informed by the Host that the house was promised for a dance that night, and he supposed they could not be made comfortable there on that account. The sun was fast declining, and it was seven miles from the next tavern, where the accommodations were not expected to be as good, neither for man nor beast. They had traveled all day on horseback, and were very tired, and showed no disposition to move on, when the landlord remarked, that his accommodations were ample, if the music and dance would not disturb them. One of the old men remarked that neither the music nor dancing would keep him awake, if nothing of a more annoying kind should follow; and so they all said. The host assured them that they could make themselves easy, as the company is not of the fighting kind, and I can give you a large room to yourselves, and comfortable beds."

"So they alighted and took up their quarters.

"After supper the landlord came to their room and stated that the leader of the dancing party desired to see them. He was invited up, and soon requested that a few of his friends might be permitted to enjoy their company. This was also acceded to. About the time the company had collected it was proposed among themselves to postpone the dance, and that these old men be invited to preach. It was agreed to, and preach and pray they did."

But here the story ends. Of its facts I have no doubts. It interested me, and beguiled the weary hours away. It has often recurred to my mind, and has given rise to the query: What results follow that meeting? The seed then sown may be now producing a bountiful return. Of course, eternity will reveal it all; but I would much like to know more about it now. You are now associating with brethren who live very near that mountain, and some one might possibly know something about the matter. If not, it may at least interest them to read this reminiscence.

Universalism.

BROTHER HOLSINGER:—As you request something very new, or very old, or very good, for the Almanac, I thought I would send you an article I read in an Almanac more than 40 years ago. I then thought it a pretty good, and if you wish, you can insert it. I will give it as near as I can remember.

Minister B. came to the little village of — on a Saturday evening, and put up at the village hotel, to stay over Sunday. After some introductory remarks he asked the landlord if there was any preaching in town the next day. The landlord replied there was Universalist meeting, and that there was no other denomination could start a church there; that ministers of different persuasions had tried but had always failed.

"Well," said the minister "I will go and hear him, in the forenoon; and if they will give me a chance, I will speak in the afternoon.

The landlord replied, "you can no doubt, have the house; it is free for any one."

Sunday, 11 o'clock came, the minister was there, and heard a good Universalist sermon. They were much encouraged to enjoy the world, and rejoice that there was such a merciful Saviour, that had died for the sins of the whole world, and that the idea of hell, being a place of torment was from a misunderstanding of the word hell; that hell was nothing more or less than the grave; for God was too merciful to punish his creatures, but had prepared a heaven for his intelligent creatures after death.

When the meeting was dismissed, minister B. asked if he could have the house, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. His request was readily granted.

Three o'clock came, and a house full of hearers, to hear the stranger. The meeting was commenced with singing and prayer; then read the Scripture of his choice which reads thus: "And I say unto you, my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. But I will forewarn you whom you shall fear: Fear him which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.

"Now" said the minister, as I believe I am addressing an intelligent congregation, I shall make but few remarks, and then leave the subject for your serious consideration, until I return again, which I will do in 4 weeks, if the Lord will. But to my subject, if a murderer comes into your house, or comes upon you any place. I say unto you, friends, you shall not be afraid of him, for he can only kill the body, and after that hath no more than he can do. But I will forewarn you whom you shall fear: "Fear him, which after you are killed, hath power to cast you into the grave, yes, fear the sexton, fear him that will cast both soul and body into hell, yea, fear the sexton, I say unto you fear him. The minister returned at the appointed time, held regular meetings, and it is necessary to add, that he soon organized a church.

History of the Brethren in Lancaster County, Pa.

In 1724, there was a division of the church, occasioned by the troubles with Conrad Beissel. Six brethren and five sisters joined with Bisel, and formed the Seventh Day Baptists, at Ephrata. Twenty-seven remained true to the Church, all of the Conestoga congregation. Peter Becker was their Bishop, until 1734. Fifty-two persons were baptized during his ministration.

Afterwards they elected Michael Frantz as minister, and John Landis Deacon. Michael Frantz preached until 1747, when he moved to Maryland. During his ministration in Conestoga one hundred and nineteen persons were baptized. From 1747 to 1769, the congregation was in charge of Elder Michael Phoutz, and during this time one hundred and sixteen persons were baptized into the faith. Michael Frantz died in the 60th year of his age in Conestoga. He was succeeded by Elder Christian Lanecker, for a period of three years, until 1772, when the congregation was divided into three branches, viz: Connestoga, White Oak, and Swatara. Elder Peter Eigenberger, and Jacob Stull belonged to Conestoga; Elder Christian Lanecker, and Johannes Zug to the White Oak; and Elder Hann, Jacob Beshore, and George Kline, to the Swatara.

Elder Jacob Stull succeeded Eigenberger, for fifty years, until 1822, during which time two hundred and seventy-three persons were baptized. Stull died in 1822.

Wisdom of Love Making

We know that men naturally shrink from the attempt to obtain companions who are their superiors, but they will find that really intelligent women, who possess the most desirable qualities, are uniformly modest, and hold their charms in modest estimation. Don't imagine that any disappointment of love which takes place before you are twenty-one years old will be of any material damage to you. The truth is, that before a man is twenty-five years old he does not know what he wants himself. The more of a man you become, and the more manly you become capable of exhibiting in your associations with women, the better wife you will be able to obtain; and one year's possession of the heart and hand of a really noble woman is worth nine hundred and ninety-nine years' possession of a sweet creature with two ideas in her head, and nothing new to say about either of them.

AN APT QUOTATION.—A lady, writing to her father, described the loss of a favorite cow as follows:

"Yesterday poor Dolly strayed from the pasture, and unfortunately selecting the railroad track for the route of her luckless liberty, was caught by the late afternoon train from the north, and left in nearly equal portions on either side the track."

To which the father promptly and succinctly replied:

"Appropos of your cow, see Genesis. xv. 17."

Consulting Genesis according to this direction, she read: "And it came to pass, that, when the sun went down, and it was dark, behold a smoking furnace and a burning lamp that passed between those pieces."—EDITOR'S DRAWER, in Harpers Magazine for April.

Finding the Stolen Axe.

While Mr. Dow was traveling through Maryland, a poor man came and informed him that some one had stolen his axe, and wished Mr. Dow to be good enough to tell him where it was. Lorenzo informed him that he possessed no power of knowing such things. But the man had heard that Lorenzo Dow knew everything, and could not be persuaded to believe anything else. At length, when it was evident that the man could not be otherwise disposed of, Mr. Dow said he would find the axe, if he could.

"But do you suspect any person of stealing it?" said Mr. Dow.

"Yes," said the man very promptly, "I think I know the very man, but cannot be certain."

"Will he be at meeting?"

"Yes, sir, he is sure to be there."

Mr. Dow said no more, but picking up a stone about as large as his two fists, carried it to church with him, and laid it on the desk beside him, so that all the congregation might see it. How many inquiries ran through their minds about the stone, during the sermon, no one knows. But, after he had finished preaching, he took the stone in his hand, and, addressing the audience, said:

"Some one has stolen an axe belonging to Mr. A., a poor man. The thief is here. He is before me now, and I intend, after turning round three times, to hit him on the head with this stone."

Accordingly, he turned round twice, rather slowly, but the third time came round with great fury, as if going to throw the stone into the midst of the men before him, when, to the no little amusement of the company, and the satisfaction of the man who lost the axe, the very man who was suspected of the theft dodged his head behind the pew.

"Now," said Dow, "I will not expose you any further, but if you don't leave that axe to-night where you got it, I will publish you to-morrow."

The axe was, accordingly, returned.

A merchant of veracity in Cincinnati vouches for the truth of this story.

A brave man thinks no one his superior who does him an injury; for he has it then in his power to make himself superior to the other by forgiving it.—Pope.

A Happy New Year.

WE desire that the year 1873 shall be a happy and joyous year to all our numerous readers. And as we are the artificers of our own fortune, and as our highest enjoyments spring from our most noble acts, let us consider well the paths we tread, strive to elevate our spiritual natures, cultivate our mental and practical powers—and press forward in the right with a clear consciousness, regardless of the eyes of scoffers, and we shall gain the prize : HAPPINESS !

The First Thing.

The first thing you are required to do this year is to subscribe for the CHRISTIAN FAMILY COMPANION. You will find it instructive and useful to soul and body. It will only cost a dollar and a half, and it will last you a whole year. When you read it a while you will wonder how you got along without it at all. Address the publisher, H. R. The Friends of the
FAHRNEY SYSTEM OF PRACTICE, in Pennsylvania, Md., and Virginia, will be pleased to learn that Dr. P. FAHRNEY, of CHICAGO, is now stopping for the coming winter at

DALE CITY, PENN'A,

where he can be consulted at all times—Free of charge. Those coming by the Baltimore & Ohio R. R., will change cars at Cumberland, Md., and take the Pittsburg & Connellsville R. R. to Dale City, a distance of 35 miles. A personal interview is not all ways expedient; hence it is advisable to correspond through the mails.

Dr. Fahrney is now the oldest Living Practitioner in the Fahrney Family, and by far the most experienced; he is by no means depending on his practice for a livelihood, but resumes his practice only at the earnest request of friends.

N. B. Those who travel from house to house, claiming to be the doctor himself, or to have studied under him, should be regarded as impostors.

For particulars address,

Dr. P. FAHRNEY,

DALE CITY,

SOMERSET COUNTY, PA.

Letters addressed to Waynesboro, Pa., or Chicago, Ill., will be forwarded to him.

The Brethren's Almanac. will, no interfering providence, be published, from year to year, and it is the intention of the present publisher that each ten years shall constitute a volume, and be bound into a book. The series may be secured at one dollar, or copies may be had annually, and preserved.

Address,

H. R. HOLSINGER,

DALE CITY, Somerset Co., Pa.

GEISER'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING GRAIN SEPARATOR, CLEANER, BAGGER AND POWERS.

No implement more important to the farmer than a FIRST CLASS GRAIN THRESH-ER and CLEANER—for none pay him so well and speedily.

The above cut shows the ONLY GEISER MACHINE now built under the immediate eye of the old inventors themselves, with all the additional improvements made during the past 18 years, and now with a first-class workman and material this machine justly stands high above all of its class. As a Thresher it is equal to the best, as a Cleaner it is superior to any existing machine. This is admitted by all honest competitors. Indeed it is the only machine that really can by one operation, thoroughly thresh and clean grain fit for market. But the fact that grain direct from this machine commands from two to three cents a bushel more than grain direct from any other machine, settles the question of superiority, as a cleaner over all others. Impartial judges at all the State and County Fairs where it was thoroughly and practically tested, in competition with other leading machines, always agree that it is more simple—more easily understood and operated by those un-killed in machinery—more durable—threshing as much and yet cleaning better—with less power and more comfort to hands than any other machine in use—besides all this, is sold for less money according to capacity. These facts are farther attested by the thousands of purchasers, some of whom have had them in use for the last 18 years. To supply the wants of all, we now make four sizes, viz:
 From a Two-Horse Railway or Three-Horse Lever power, to a Ten-Horse Lever Power, with prices ranging from $190 to $360, without power. We also make the latest improved triple-gear Horse Powers, suitable for each size machine ranging from $90 to $135, and are fully and fairly warranted. For further information send for Circulars and Price List.
